

Chloe Morgan

Designer Maker

I am a designer maker predominantly focusing on furniture and lighting design. Experimenting with a variety of materials including wood, metal and textiles has allowed me to delve into and get a taste of many areas of design. Lately, I have taken my skills in a different direction by designing for cats.

I am always willing to learn and know that I am just at the beginning of my design story and can't wait to see where it takes me.

Outside of design I enjoy both digital and analogue photography and currently own what some would describe as too many cameras! I have a big love of animals, particularly my dog Harry who can be found most days sporting a collar and a bow tie made by myself. I also enjoy cooking most evening for my family and enjoy experimenting with and trying new food.
