I have gained invaluable skills through experiences such as working as a teaching assistant for 'Kumon', an international private tuition organisation, this position required skills such as team work and critical thinking as it often entailed helping children (ranging from 4-14 years of age) with work they struggle in or, at times, dealing with uninterested children and motivating them to complete the task at hand. Other experiences include Voluntary work abroad in 'Manshiet Naser', Egypt. This is one of the largest slums in Egypt in which a free school funded by 'St Steven's Children' Charity is located. I travelled to this School in the Summer of 2012 as part of a team of 4 to use our bilingual skills to teach children-(as young as six) English numbers and the alphabet, this experience was very beneficial in the sense that it showed me first-hand the benefit of even the most basic education on a less-well off child whom has had minimal education

Work Experience

'The Noise project'

Voluntary Work - Chichester

June 2008 to Present

Chichester, West Sussex I have undertaken in this project since I was 10 and first found out about it through my local church. The Noise is a local project held in Chichester that consists of being in a team of around 5 and going into the houses of those who are elderly or disabled and doing manual work, that they are unable to do themselves, free of charge. This usually would be clearing out over grown gardens, however, another aspect of the project was to talk to those being helped and engage in conversations which I found vital to the project as some of the people I had met were often widows or widowers or in several cases, had disabilities that forced them to stay in their house, unable to go out and see new people.
